Glossary

Term/Acronym	Definition

1 OBJECTIVE

The Pulitano Group (Group) recognise the need for all staff in its employ to present a favourable and professional image on behalf of the company.

The following Uniform Policy seeks to formalise both the standard of dress and an appropriate dress code that supports a coordinated approach to the company's professional image and comply with Occupational Health and Safety Guidelines.

2 POLICY SCOPE

This policy applies equally to all entities nationally. This Policy is divided into two separate sections to account for the different requirements as follows:

Section 3 - Employees whose role is listed under appendix A; and

Section 4 - Employees whose role is listed under appendix C

3 EMPLOYEES WHOSE ROLE IS LISTED UNDER APPENDIX A

3.1 Policy Statement

Every employee whose position is listed under Appendix A must adhere to the Uniform and Dress Standard Policy set out in this section 3.

Employees should always be dressed neatly and appropriately for the type of work they perform.

Uniforms must always be worn when on duty, this includes weekends and public holidays, and must not be worn into licenced or similar premises.

Managers are responsible for ensuring that these guidelines are met.

In the event that any employee arrives for work in a way that is not in line with this policy, his or her manager will advise them that they are not dressed or groomed appropriately to perform their duties.

On the first occasion, employees will be given the opportunity to address the issues immediately, and if necessary, to return home to change. For clarity, the time to travel and change will not be paid.

Any subsequent occasions will be considered a breach of company policy and further action in accordance with the company Disciplinary Policy will be taken. Any deliberate breach of this policy could result in disciplinary action.

Uniforms will be supplied to relevant personnel and will remain the property of the Group, however full responsibility for maintenance and cleanliness will remain with the employee, including exchange of damaged uniforms.

3.2 Uniform items

For the period from employment commencement and until the completion of employees' probationary period, an interim uniform will be issued.

Employees are entitled to new company-issued uniforms upon completion of their probationary period.

Subsequent orders will be determined on a fair-wear-and-tear basis only. The Capability Officer will assess eligibility to order replacement uniforms.

3.2.1. Quantity of uniforms supplied

Employees will be supplied uniforms in compliance with the entitlements set out in the industrial instrument applicable to his or her position; that is, in line with Enterprise Agreement (EA), Award, Contract of Employment, or this Policy in that order of hierarchy.

For avoidance of doubt, Appendix B details the company-issued uniforms by role.

3.2.2. Footwear

Wearing of appropriate footwear is the responsibility of employees. Footwear must be a quality, supportive, fully enclosed shoe, or boot, suitable for the duties performed and black in colour.

For clarity, the following are not permitted: open-toe shoes, sandals, croc-type shoes, ballet flats, high-heeled shoes, sneakers, sport shoes, skate shoes, suede, canvas or runners. In the event that an allowance has been paid by the business and the shoes are not compliant, the Employer reserves the right to request the employee to purchase a replacement pair in line with this Policy.

In some instances, footwear allowance is paid as an entitlement as prescribed by the relevant industrial instrument.

Administration staff should speak with their manager to clarify depot requirements.

3.2.3. Damaged or Lost Uniforms

Uniforms will be replaced, where in the opinion of the manager, it is in a condition which is likely to adversely reflect upon the company's image and its condition has been caused by fair wear and tear or has resulted from circumstances beyond the control of the employee.

Where the uniform, in the opinion of the Manager, has been damaged or lost as a result of non-work-related activities within the control of the employee, the employee is responsible for the replacement cost.

All damaged uniforms must be returned to the issuer upon replacement.

3.2.4. Replacement

Employees will be re-supplied on a fair-wear-and-tear basis.

3.2.5. Returning Uniform upon Termination

Employees are required to return all issued uniform items on termination.

3.3 Dress standards

- Employees should always be dressed neatly and appropriately for the type of work they perform.
- Jewellery should be discreet and professional in appearance. Ear piercings are acceptable, provided the jewellery is of a conservative and professional nature.
- Hair should be worn in a neat and tidy fashion. If an Occupational Health and Safety risk applies, long hair must be worn tied back.
- Tattoos that could be perceived to be offensive should be discreetly covered (e.g. tattoos of naked men/women, skulls or daggers dripping blood, etc.)
- High visibility clothing (vest – jacket) is required to be worn in operational areas.
- Black and fully enclosed footwear is required to be worn in operational areas.
- High visibility vests are not to be worn when conducting driving duties.
- Uniform must always be clean.
- Shirts must be tucked in.

4 EMPLOYEES WHOSE ROLE IS LISTED UNDER APPENDIX C

4.1 Policy Statement

Every employee whose position is listed under Appendix C must adhere to the Uniform and Dress Standard Policy set out in this section 4.

Employees should always be dressed appropriately for the type of work they perform.

Uniforms must always be worn when on duty, this includes weekends and public holidays, and must not be worn into licenced or similar premises.

Managers are responsible for ensuring that these guidelines are met.

In the event that any employee arrives for work in a way that is not in line with this policy, his or her manager will advise them that they are not dressed or groomed appropriately to perform their duties.

On the first occasion, employees will be given the opportunity to address the issues immediately, and if necessary, to return home to change. For clarity, the time to travel and change will not be paid.

Any subsequent occasions will be considered a breach of this Policy and further action in accordance with the company Disciplinary Policy will be taken. Any deliberate breach of this policy could result in disciplinary action.

Uniforms will be supplied to relevant personnel and will remain the property of the Group, however full responsibility for maintenance and cleanliness will remain with the employee, including exchange of damaged uniforms. Unless otherwise provided in the applicable industrial instrument, employees are responsible for laundering their own uniforms.

4.2 Uniform items

Employees are entitled to new company-issued uniforms upon commencement.

Subsequent orders will be determined on a fair-wear-and-tear basis only. The Capability Officer will assess eligibility to order replacement uniforms.

4.2.1 Quantity of uniforms supplied

Employees will be supplied uniforms in compliance with the entitlements set out in the industrial instrument applicable to his or her position; that is, in line with Enterprise Agreement (EA), Award, Contract of Employment, or this Policy in that order of hierarchy.

For avoidance of doubt, Appendix D details the company-issued uniforms by role.

4.2.2 Footwear

Wearing of appropriate footwear is the responsibility of employees. Footwear must be a quality, supportive, fully enclosed steel-capped boots.

For clarity, the following are not permitted: open-toe shoes, sandals, croc-type shoes, ballet flats, high-heeled shoes, sneakers, sport shoes, skate shoes, suede, canvas or runners. In the event that an allowance has been paid by the business and the shoes are not compliant, the Employer reserves the right to request the employee to purchase a replacement pair in line with this Policy.

In some instances, footwear allowance is paid as an entitlement as prescribed by the relevant industrial instrument. However, the Employer will issue footwear to those employees in whose role is listed in appendix and will therefore not reimburse employees for this expense.

4.2.3 Damaged or Lost Uniforms

Uniforms will be replaced, where in the opinion of the manager, it is in a condition which is likely to adversely reflect upon the company's image and its condition has been caused by fair wear and tear or has resulted from circumstances beyond the control of the employee.

Where the uniform, in the opinion of the Manager, has been damaged or lost as a result of non-work-related activities within the control of the employee, the employee is responsible for the replacement cost.

All damaged uniforms must be returned to the issuer upon replacement.

4.2.4 Replacement

Employees will be re-supplied on a fair-wear-and-tear basis.

4.2.5 Returning Uniform upon Termination

Employees are required to return all issued uniform items on termination.

4.3 Dress Standards

- Employees should always be dressed neatly and appropriately for the type of work they perform.
- Jewellery should be discreet and professional in appearance. Ear piercings are acceptable, provided the jewellery is of a conservative and professional nature.
- If an Occupational Health and Safety risk applies, long hair must be worn tied back.
- Tattoos that could be perceived to be offensive should be discreetly covered (e.g.; tattoos of naked men or women, skulls or daggers dripping blood, etc.)
- High visibility clothing (vest – jacket) is required to be worn as signed throughout the depots.
- Steel-capped boots is required to be worn when undertaking work in the workshops.

4.4 Laundry Allowance

Permanent employees who are required to wear a uniform but who are not entitled to be supplied with a laundered uniform under their applicable industrial instrument may receive a laundry allowance in the amount of $5 per week. This is a discretionary payment made by the Group which can be withdrawn at any time. Employees are at all times responsible for the cost of laundering their uniforms.
